NOSTRADAM™

Well one thing for sure the flyer these bastards put out certainly made the event sound like one of the best and its pretty obvious why thousands of people bought tickets and got ripped off. Not one DJ, PA, or attraction was booked, no licence even applied for, even the logo was copied from Universe and the organisers of Universe would like to point out that they had absolutely nothing to do with this, one of the biggest rip offs, but that goes without saying.

The organisers of this con run off with thousands of pounds but we have heard they've been caught, it doesn't help you and someone else may strike again so beware. But how do you know its a con when tickets are sold by agents and the flyers look so good - we nearly bought a ticket for this event and would have lost our money as obviously no refunds were given. It can happen to anyone.

This is what was promised by Armageddon - perhaps the only thing indicating this was a con is that it is unusual for such a large event like this to be promoted by an unknown, unheard of organiser. Organisers like Universe, Fantazia, Dreamscape etc., have put on lots of events and worked up to this sort of standard, they have gained a reputation and know what they are doing. To put an event such as this on would cost an unbelievable amount of money and taken a long time to organise, what a shame it wasn't for real.

If you have any doubts about an event you are thinking of buying a ticket for and you are a member of Eternity why not phone our hotline first and we will check it out for you. If they are a reputable, reliable organiser we would be selling tickets for the event anyway and we also ask them to confirm that a full refund will be given if the event is cancelled.

REZERECTION

December 19th 1992

This event was due to take place at Castle Donnington but due to the lack of ticket sales the organisers had no option but to cancel. Perhaps everyone was saving for the New Years Eve bash in Edinbrough because its well known that Rezerrection events are some of the best. We are assured by the organisers of Rezerrection that all refunds have been made but if you had a problem please let us know. It's a shame that their information line didn't inform people the event was cancelled, we phoned it on the night and assumed the event was still on as we had only heard rumours. Hope no one had a wasted journey!

NOTE TO THE ORGANISERS OF X-STATIC

Thankyou for your call complaining that you did not rip off the ravers. As we said on the phone if you send a fax with your side of the story we will certainly check it out and then print it!

VISION

New Years Eve

The council agreed the licence for this event at Wisbech, Cambridgeshire, even though there was a Police objection. The Police told the organisers there would be no Police presence on the night, the organisers continued on this basis. At the last minute the council pulled out because of the Police, Vision had already had flyers, tickets and everything else arranged, this event would have been a sell out, the line ups and attractions well sorting a New Years Eve night out, they are now suing the council - good luck to them! There should be nobody out of pocket from this cancelled event. Dreamscape are also pissed off about this as it was on their list as a possible venue, their event for New Years Eve took place at Rage in Leicester and if you went to that you should have had just as good a night.
